punctuation, and RMK began work (also for the Ph.D.) on interrogation.

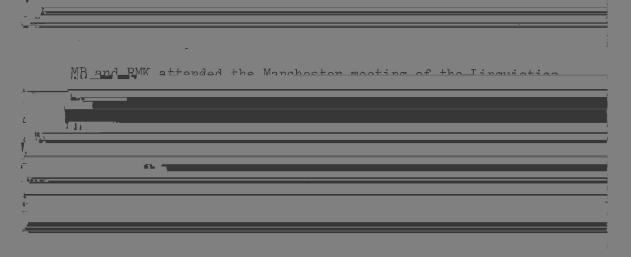

Elicitation work was carried out by RMK and RQ as well as by Wolf Bald [see S II] and - in the United States - by Sidney Greenbaum.

Help with statistical testing (especially in connexion with elicitation results) was again given on a consultancy basis by Caroline Bott.

In addition to the exacting preparation and checking of Duplimat copy and material for publication, MC has kept up to date the off-print file and the working library

Association where RMK read a paper on activation of latent contrast by elicitation technique. JP attended a conference in Cambridge on the use of computers in linguistic and literary studies. Several members of the RQ visited the universities of Gothenburg and Helsinki, giving public lectures as well as graduate seminars on aspects of the Survey's work. He
